

Old Economy Village

2018

Summer History Camp

Instead of learning about history through a text book or visiting a museum. Your child will perform the skills and crafts of the 19th century in a National Historical Landmark, Old Economy Village.

EXPLORE HISTORY
THROUGH A DIFFERENT
LENS

Old Economy Village is a gemstone site of the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission. Old Economy Village interprets the history of the Harmony Society, a highly successful nineteenth century religious communal society, and preserves and interprets the unique material culture of the Society during its period of residence in Beaver County, Pennsylvania for citizens of and visitors to the Commonwealth. Old Economy Village was the heart of the Harmony Society's home from 1824 until the commune was dissolved in 1905. Old Economy Village is administered by the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission in partnership with the Friends of Old Economy Village. It is part of Ambridge's Old Economy National Historic District and is among the region's most important historic sites.
